What are cookies?

We use cookies to distinguish you (or your device) from other users of our website. Cookies help us provide you with a better browsing experience and help us improve our website. Cookies are small amounts of data that are stored on your browser or the hard drive of your device to enable our server to collect certain data from your web browser.

Why do we use cookies

We use cookies and/or other similar technologies such as fingerprinting or pixels to collect and store certain data. Cookies do not identify any individual but may help collecting data about your device, browser, online session, the websites you visited etc.

What type of cookies do we use?

Strictly necessary cookies

These are cookies that are required for the operation of our website. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to view our website correctly.

Analytical/performance cookies

These are cookies that allow us to recognize and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our website when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily.

Functionality cookies

These are cookies that are used to recognize you when you return to our website. This enables us, subject to your choices and preferences, to personalize our content, greet you by name or remember your preferences.

Targeting/Advertising cookies

These are cookies that are used to record your visit to our website, the pages you have visited and the links you have followed. We use this data, subject to your choices and preferences, to make the website more relevant to your interests. We may also share this data with third parties who may provide you with personalized advertising based on your personal interests.

Unclassified

These cookies are still in the classification process. They will show up in one on the following categories; Strictly necessary, Analytical/performance, Functionality or Targeting/Advertising.

How can I disable cookies?

If you want to disable cookies on our website, you need to change your website browser settings to reject cookies. How you can do this will depend on the browser you use. The effect of disabling cookies depends on which cookies you disable but, in general, the website may not operate properly if all cookies are switched off. You can also change your settings in our Cookies Consent Tool.

Cookie Table

This cookie list generally shows all cookies found on this website. It does not reflect the user's individual opt-out choices.
